Roofing panels

Smartroof are prefabricated, pre-insulated roofing panels which include pre-manufactured spandrel panels in place of masonry built gable ends. The main roof sections then span from gable to gable rather than from eaves to ridge, without the use of heavy purlins, and can incorporate infill panels to fit round rooflights.

Produced in collaboration between, Wolf Systems and Wyckham Blackwell the units incorporate built-in lifting points and arrive pre-slung.

Gas & damp barriers

With the development of brownfield sites there is a growing need to stop moisture and gases penetrating the structure and growing complexity over how to achieve that.

Z-Led is aiming to help achieve Regulatory compliance with the publication of a comprehensive range of literature, which clarifies the issues, and how to resolve them at potential 'weak spots' in floors and cavity walls.

Render

Keim Universal Render is a ready to use, easily applied renovation and thin layer wall render for use on all mineral substrates both externally and internally. It comprises a hydraulic lime and white cement binder with sand and mineral fibre fillers. This means it can accommodate a high degree of movement whilst at the same time preventing surface crazing and cracking.

Flooring system

Caberdek P5 is a moisture-resistant tongue-and-groove flooring board faced with a non-slip protective plastic film to protect the board from moisture during construction. The film is simply peeled off when the following trades have been completed.

Norbord's Sealfast is a high-strength polyurethane adhesive developed specifically for use with Caberdek. The gun-applied adhesive is used both for jointing the boards and for fixing them to the supporting joists.

Industrial wipes

The Industrial Green Big Wipe has the same broad cleaning powers as Big Wipes but unlike its predecessor will decompose. The environment-friendly wipes are disposable plant-derived viscose fabric cloths which have been pre-impregnated with a natural oil based cleaning solution which is also biodegradable.

The 20x30cm ready-to-use cloths come in foil-sealed tubs of 80 which have an airtight lid to keep the contents moist once the seal has been broken.
